- Criminal law implications in cross-border investigations with regard to the processing and circulating of personal data

Conducting the defence investigation: a comparison of law and practice

This panel will discuss the different jurisprudential and practical approaches to conducting both pre and post charge defence investigations in the jurisdictions named above. It will explore the extent to which the laws of the various jurisdictions expressly or implicitly contemplate such investigations, whether and how such investigations are actually conducted in those jurisdictions and how the fruits of the investigation can be employed pre charge and at trial. The panel will also address issues relating to the retention of third parties such as investigators and forensic accountants to assist lawyers in their fact finding, as well as the legal issues implicated by those retentions, including privilege and ethical issues. Finally, the panel will address the strategic and tactical considerations in using facts developed in the course of a defence investigation, both in attempting to persuade prosecutors not to bring charges and the use of such facts at trial.

The right to silence when everyone else is talking

White collar fraud practice increasingly involves information sharing between investigators and regulators, pressure on the corporate to self-report and cross-border information sharing. The panel will consider whether the right to silence is at risk in a world where everyone else starts talking to each other.

Simultaneous translation from Portuguese to English and from English to Portuguese will be provided during this session.

Criminal issues arising in international trade: a day in the life of a shipping container

This session will be formed of two distinct, but related parts.

Part one: Sanctions and trade embargoes

The first part of the session will see the panel discuss a number of sanctions issues including the growing trend of sanctions across the globe, their increasing complexity, and changes in enforcement trends and asset freezing. The panel will consider how best to respond to these developments, including managing sanctions risk and dealing with competing sanctions regimes.

Part two: A day in the life of a shipping container

The second part of the session will be a practical compliance example as the panel follow a day in the life of a shipping container, discussing a cross-section of issues that arise in the context of the international trade in goods such as how best to navigate complex sanctions issues prior to shipping and how to respond to other criminal issues that may arise, including bribery and corruption.

1100 – 1230

Current developments in cross-border cooperation

This session will look into new trends and developments in cross-border cooperation. Law enforcement agencies and regulators are asserting their jurisdiction regardless of national borders. Depending on multiple factors, they may cooperate or compete with each other, coordinate their actions - for instance by dividing up their work geographically - or run parallel investigations without any interaction.

Different scenarios and competing interests in cross-border cooperation generate uncertainty for companies and individuals facing investigations in more than one jurisdiction. Their lawyers are expected to understand what is going on in the background and to navigate their clients in the right direction – in terms of producing documents and witnesses, and having to formulate responses to different agencies pursuing different agendas and / or priorities.

Differences in legislation need to be recognised, for instance how corporate and individual liabilities operate in different jurisdictions and whether or not certain tools, such as DPAs, are available.

Thus, a comprehensive strategy is required to resolve investigations in a multi-jurisdictional context. This session will focus on the relevant factors that need to be considered to formulate that strategy.

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to be made from any fees payable to us by you under the terms contained in this 'Information' section you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

If we obtain the benefit of any tax credit or other relief by reference to any such deductions or withholdings, then we shall repay to you such amount as, after such repayment has been made, will leave us in no worse position than we would have been had no such deductions or withholdings been required.

Promotional literature

Please note that no individual or organisation may display or distribute publicity material or other printed matter during the conference, unless by prior arrangement with the IBA. Organisations and companies wishing to discuss promotional opportunities should contact the IBA Sponsorship Department at sponsorship@int-bar.org.

Conference sell-outs

The IBA places its conference in venues of a suitable size for the event; however, there are times when our conferences may sell out. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a 'first come, first served' basis, subject to receiving registered delegate cancellations. The IBA will not be liable for any travel or accommodation expenses incurred by an individual who travels to the conference without a confirmed place at the event.

Cancellation of registration

If cancellation is received in writing at the IBA office by 21 April, fees will be refunded less a 25 per cent administration charge. Refunds will be made minus any monies owed to the IBA.

We regret that no refunds can be made after this date. Registrations received after 21 April will not be eligible for any refund of registration fees. Please note that NO exception will be made to this policy. Should you have difficulties in obtaining your visa and are not able to attend the conference this cancellation policy will still apply.

Provided you have cancelled your registration to attend an IBA conference in accordance with the terms of the 'cancellation of registration' clause included in the 'Information' section of the relevant conference programme, you must then confirm to us in writing at the IBA office as soon as possible but in no event later than one year (12 calendar months) from the date of any such conference all necessary details to enable any reimbursement owed to you to be paid. We regret that no refunds will be made after the date that is one year (12 calendar months) after the date of the relevant conference.

Hotel accommodation

The IBA has reserved a limited number of rooms for the nights of 17–18 May inclusive at the Sheraton Hotel at the following rates:

Single room: €220

Double room: €240

The above rates are per room, per night and includes buffet breakfast and six per cent VAT, but excludes city tax at €1 per person, per night.

To avail of the IBA rate, please book your accommodation online using the following link: www.starwoodmeeting.com/events/start.action?id=1611152108&key=22878095.

Please note that reservations will only be confirmed if a valid credit card number is provided. One night's deposit will be needed at the time of reservation.

Cancellation and no-show policy

Cancellations made less than 15 days prior to arrival, no-shows and early departures will be charged in full to the individual guest's credit card given at the time of booking.

Please note that any reservation made after 17 April will be subject to availability and cannot be guaranteed at the special IBA rate.

As a limited number of rooms have been blocked at the hotel, availability cannot be guaranteed once the room block is full.

Delegates are responsible for making accommodation reservations directly with the hotel and entering into an agreement with the hotel regarding credit card guarantees, cancellation terms and conditions, and room rates (should these differ from the special IBA rate). The IBA cannot accept responsibility for hotel accommodation disputes between a delegate and the hotel.

Unauthorised Accommodation Agents

It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering 'assistance' with registration and hotel bookings.

They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. The only Accommodation Agent the IBA works with is Judy Lane ICS. Judy Lane ICS do not contact delegates on behalf of the IBA without delegates making initial contact. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA or Judy Lane ICS.

Disabled access

The Sheraton Hotel is wheelchair accessible. Please notify us if you require special assistance.

Travel arrangements and visas

Participants are responsible for making their own travel arrangements. It is recommended that you check your visa requirements with your local embassy or consulate. We are unable to dispatch visa invitation letters to support your visa application prior to receipt of your registration form and full payment of registration fees.

Please apply for your visa in good time.

the legal profession®

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations and law societies. The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 160 countries and has considerable expertise in providing assistance to the global legal community.

Grouped into two divisions – the Legal Practice Division and the Public and Professional Interest Division – the IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to-date information. Through the various committees of the divisions, the IBA enables an interchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe. Additionally, the IBA's world-class conferences provide unrivalled professional development and network-building opportunities for international legal practitioners, senior business professionals, regulators and government officials.

The IBA's Human Rights Institute (HRI) works across the Association, to promote, protect and enforce human rights under a just rule of law, and to preserve the independence of the judiciary and the legal profession worldwide.

Other institutions established by the IBA include the Southern Africa Litigation Centre and the International Legal Assistance Consortium.

IBA Business Crime Committee overview

The Business Crime Committee's primary objective is to discuss, address and advocate on core and recently developing white collar issues. The Committee's goal is also to promote awareness within the business community and among transactional lawyers of the growing significance of novel criminal defence tactics. The committee has recently been focusing on the new trends of international cooperation in criminal matters.

IBA Criminal Law Committee overview

The Criminal Law Committee provides a forum for members from many countries and criminal justice systems to meet regularly, communicate, exchange views, and monitor developments in substantive and procedural criminal law. The committee focuses on developments of transnational and international significance. The interaction and cooperation within the committee keeps members informed of developments in criminal law and criminal procedures through newsletters and appointed rapporteurs.

European Regional Forum overview

The European Regional Forum was established in 1989 to provide a focus originally on the work undertaken by the IBA in developing the practice under changing legal systems of lawyers in Eastern and Central Europe. The forum was also intended to act as a channel for IBA communication with the bar associations of these local lawyers. Since 2004 the forum has been developing and strengthening the existence of the IBA within the whole of Europe by promoting the goals of the IBA to members, non-members and others, disseminating professional know-how, and assisting the committees and other constituencies of the IBA to increase their presence in the different neighbouring regions of Europe, including parts of North Africa and the Middle East
