About Dearbháile

Dearbháile is a senior associate in the Real Estate and Tourism practice. She has 8 years' experience in legal practice, devoting much of this time to litigation, real estate and tourism. Dearbháile acts for private clients and companies, mainly from foreign markets, that wish to invest in residential or tourism properties in Portugal.

She is a member of PLMJ's Scandinavian Desk and has a special focus on the Swedish market, where she has been assisting clients in the process of moving to Portugal. One important aspect of this is helping her clients obtain non-habitual resident status.

Before joining PLMJ, she did a summer internship at the Lisbon office of Linklaters, in the financial regulation group, and at the office in London in the area of European law and competition.
